AMBROSINI HONORED

MRS. BERTHA HAFFNER-GINGER ENTERTAINS AT FAREWELL BANQUET

ENDORSE DR. RUSSELL

FOR STATE PRESIDENT OF CALIFORNIA CONGRESS OF MOTHERS

A few of the citizens of Glendale who have keenly appreciated the live interest Anthony Ambrosini has taken in the welfare of the city decided to honor him with a farewell banquet Tuesday evening, as he was leaving the following day for his home in St. Paul. The affair was placed in the hands of Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger of 430 Adams street, who invited about twenty-five of Mr. Ambrosini's friends to a banquet at Filger hall, 570 West Broadway.

A table sufficiently large to seat all of the guests had been arranged under the beautifully electric lighted dome of this spacious hall. The table was decorated with banks of flowers. The banquet comprised fruit salads, cream tarts, toast boats, potato chips, tongue, green peas, olives, etc., ice cream, cake, real coffee with real cream. Everything was splendidly prepared. Mrs. Ginger is well versed in the mysteries of domestic science and has been a teacher of that subject for years. She will be in charge of the new Ambrosini Inn. Mrs. Ginger was assisted in serving the delicious repast by her daughter, Miss Mabel Estella Filger.

At the close of the luncheon, Herman Nelson, cashier of the Bank of Glendale, introduced A. T. Cowan, publisher of the Glendale Evening News, as toastmaster of the evening.

The toastmaster upon entering upon his duties explained the object of the meeting and assured those present that too great honor could not be bestowed upon Mr. Ambrosini for the interest he has taken in Glendale by making substantial real estate investments in the past eight years.

and especially does he deserve the hearty approval of the citizens of Glendale for his recent large investments.

J. C. Sherer, who is one of the old settlers of Glendale, was asked to give an account of the growth of the city. Mr. Sherer said he had been present on many occasions like the present. He recalled that when the Salt Lake railroad was extended to Glendale, there was a big demonstration. Another bright epoch in the history of Glendale was the completion of the large hotel building which is now the Glendale sanitarium. The entrance into Glendale of the Pacific Electric railway was celebrated in a fitting manner and when the Filger building in which the banquet was held was completed he recalled that F. H. Vesper made the main address at a meeting in celebration of the event. Mr. Sherer says he has great confidence in the future of Glendale and it is his opinion that Mr. Ambrosini has invested wisely.

J. F. Lilly, who conducts a fire insurance and loan office on Brand boulevard, stated that he thinks also that Mr. Ambrosini has acted wisely in making the investment just where he did and what is good for one section of Glendale is good for all sections. He considers that Glendale is only in her infancy and recalled the time that Pasadena was not as great in population as Glendale is at the present time. Mr. Lilly is very optimistic in his views and believes that a man of Mr. Ambrosini's make-up is worth much to our city.

J. J. Banta, the real estate man who has the distinction of making those sales of real estate to Mr. Ambrosini, was asked to tell how he brought the property owners and Mr. Ambrosini together. His only explanation was that he had good business and building sites to offer and Mr. Ambrosini was capable of recognizing a good thing when he saw it.

Spencer Robinson, who is also one of the old standby real estate dealers, was asked why he allowed Mr. Banta to get ahead of him in putting across this deal. Mr. Robinson in a very humorous way explained the effect on him of the announcement of Mr. Ambrosini's purchases. He said when these reports came to the public he felt there was nothing too good for him and his family. They began to live on the fat of the land, attended the picture show and spent his last $2.50, and hourly hoped that Mr. Banta would have his attention called to the Spencer Robinson lot on Glendale avenue which was for sale. Mr. Robinson said his property took an immediate jump from $1500 to $5000 so he figured he made $3500 in a few days as a result of Mr. Banta's enthusiasm. He believes that Mr. Ambrosini has good judgment and says he would have done the same long since if he had had the money with which to make the deals.

LA FOLLETTE BLOCKS CONGRESS

WISCONSIN PACIFIST BY PARLIAMENTARY MANEUVERING DELAYS ACTION ON WAR RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Pacifism on the part of Senator LaFollette to-day blocked Congressional action on the war resolution until to-morrow through parliamentary maneuvering. When the foreign committee reported the resolution out LaFollette demanded that it be handled in regular order, thereby halting action. When LaFollette refused to withdraw his demand, floor leader Martin refused to consider other matters so Congress adjourned until 10 a. m. to-morrow.

CENTRAL ALLIES PLAN PEACE

AMSTERDAM, April 3.—The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger made the statement that the Central Allies are planning new peace moves. An important conference is now on at German headquarters. It is also reported that Germany is considering protesting to neutrals against America's declaration of war.

DISCUSS WAR MEASURES

WOULD RAISE FIVE MILLION MEN FOR ARMY—MAKE PLANS ON BASIS OF THREE YEARS' CONFLICT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Secretary of War Baker and the Defense Council Advisory Board will discuss: war plans on a basis of three years' conflict; national food control and universal service,—not merely military service. It is admitted by officials that there is a "serious struggle ahead"; that labor will play a vast part in the war, which will demand enormous production. Probably from three to five million men will be raised for the army. Army officers recommend the latter number raised in groups of half a million as rapidly as they can be officered. The navy will probably be raised to 150,000 men.

COMPULSORY TRAINING BILL INTRODUCED

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN OFFERS MEASURE TO EMPOWER PRESIDENT TO CALL OUT MEN

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The House plans quick action to show the world that the nation is behind Wilson. It is believed the "pay as you go" method of meeting the finances of the war will be opposed. Senator Chamberlain introduced his compulsory military training bill empowering the president to call 500,000 men of the age of twenty immediately and thereafter call men of 21, 22 and 23 years.

HOHENZOLLERNISM DOOMED

BRITISH NEWSPAPERS SAY PRESIDENT'S SPEECH SOUNDS DEATH KNELL OF GERMAN AUTOCRACY

NEW YORK, April 3.—Newspapers throughout the United States are giving their undivided support to President Wilson. British newspapers are declaring that Wilson's speech has sounded the death knell of Hohenzollernism.

BREAK WITH AUSTRIA IMMINENT

DECLARATION OF WAR WITH GERMANY WILL BE FOLLOWED BY DIPLOMATIC BREAK WITH AUSTRIA

WASHINGTON, April 3.—It is generally believed that a break with Austria following a declaration of war with Germany, is unavoidable.

MONROE VOTES ON WAR

WISCONSIN CITY IS HOLDING FIRST WAR REFERENDUM IN UNITED STATES TODAY

MONROE, Wis., April 3.—The first war referendum in the United States is being held here today. The citizens of Monroe are voting on whether the United States should go to war with Germany. The vote is being taken in connection with the regular city election. A notable percentage of the population here is German and Swiss and the result is being watched with keen interest in Washington and elsewhere.

ELKS INSTALL OFFICERS

WIRE PRESIDENT OF SUPPORT IN ANY ACTION HE DEEMS NECESSARY

Glendale Lodge No. 1289, B. P. O. E., held a very interesting session last night when the officers for the ensuing year were installed and other matters of special interest were considered. The Elks were very pleasantly surprised to find their lodge room beautifully decorated with the Elks colors, white and purple, and the American flag. An abundance of lovely blossoms were used in the decorations, which were planned and arranged by Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw for the occasion. The liberal use of the Stars and Stripes was especially fitting at this time, as the present national crisis came up for discussion and the following resolution was adopted and ordered sent to President Wilson, and the Grand Exalted Ruler wired that this message had been sent:

Glendale, California,

April 2, 1917.

Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, Washington, D. C.:

Glendale Lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, No. 1289, of seven hundred members in meeting assembled, pledge you and Congress its unqualified support, in whatever action deemed necessary, even to the extent of declaring war, in the protection of our beloved country.

COMMITTEE,
W. E. EVANS, Chairman,
C. IRVING MILLS,
W. B. KELLY.

Along about this time in the evening the newsboys could be heard outside crying extras, and that war had been declared by Congress, and the members present, numbering over two hundred rose automatically and with one accord and sang "America." A notice was made in the lodge of the forming of the Casa Verdugo Home Guards by Captain Kelly, with an age limit from 20 to 50. Some of the gray-haired members wanted this limit raised to 60 so they might join. Hosea Steelman of the Lasky movie company, for which company he furnishes many of the horses used, gave notice that he was forming a company of rough riders and would also set a date for a meeting, when he would furnish horses for preliminary work.

The newly installed officers of the Elks Lodge are as follows: Exalted ruler, Albert D. Pearce; esteemed leading knight, Bert C. Woodward; esteemed loyal knight, Cameron D. Thom; esteemed lecturing knight, Roger H. Brown; treasurer, Herman Nelson; secretary, Willis M. Kimball; tyler, J. H. Mellish; trustee for 3-year term, Howard W. Walker.

THE PEARTS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Peart of 1111 West Seventh street entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jerry White of St. Mary's, Ontario, Canada, and Mrs. Jas. Roberts and granddaughter, Betty, of Pasadena Sunday. Mr. White is a veteran drygoods merchant of St. Mary's and is the senior partner of the firm of White & May. He has been spending several months at Hotel Pepper, Los Angeles, and he and Mrs. White are speaking nothing but good things of Southern California. Mrs. Roberts was also formerly a resident of St. Mary's and she and her husband moved to Pasadena several years ago. Owing to the poor health of Mr. Roberts, he was not able to be present. Mr. Peart was born in St. Mary's and on Monday celebrated his (?) birthday. Mr. Peart had a brother in the Boer war and now has a brother in the trenches in France. A very pleasant day indeed was spent by all, talking over old times, and darkness alone drove the friends to their respective places of abode. Oh how our tongues did wag as moments flew to hours, and hours to eve.

We talked of this and that, of He and She, and all were prone to leave, But time will go and friends must part, perhaps on earth to meet nowhere, But let us try to live a life that means reunion over there.

This was the sentiment of all.

Misses Marjorie Imler and Catherine Phillips will be the guests this week of Mrs. Fred Howland of Hobart boulevard, Los Angeles, at her pretty mountain cabin up in the Arroyo Seco above Altadena. The young ladies left this morning for Mrs. Howland's mountain camp.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Westerly winds.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

WELCOME MRS. ELIZABETH BROWN-DOUGLAS IN SOCIAL MEETING

The Glendale branch of the Woman's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. A. M. Parker for their last Lenten meeting. After a half hour of prayer service led by the president, Mrs. Eley, the usual missionary reading was dispensed with while the twenty-five ladies present welcomed Mrs. Elizabeth Brown-Douglas and her father, Mr. Baxter. Mrs. Crampton, in her own charming way, then asked to tell the following little story, in which the names of all the guests were used with great originality.

To-day our group of ladies had arranged for a pleasant afternoon together with our dear friend, Mrs. (Elizabeth) Brown-Douglas, now visiting in Glendale, as their honored guest. I started in Pollyanna (my car), calling for several friends on the way. It being early, I suggested a little spin, and we rode far out into the country. Unfortunately, my machine, not being a (Campbell), ran out of water, so, looking around, I saw an old man seated in a (Morris) chair on the porch, (Reading). I told him my troubles and he said: '(Park 'er) here, our (Well's) dry, but I'll go after some.'

'A wee baby toddled after him and he said, 'You (Mont go, Mary)', but the child (Patters on), and in its haste stumbles over a pile of (Sand, rock) and other things. She set up a (Howl and) it brought out her mother. The old man said, '(Del, gard 'er) while I (Hunt' some water for the lady.'

"Presently he found some and I ran to help him, but just then a big, fierce dog rushed through the yard. The old man gave chase, followed by the dog's owner, a big Swede, wearing a (Brown) suit and a (Kelley) green tie. He (Phillips) his whip and says, 'Ay (Ban nock) him in the head if ay catch him,' but the dog (Dodge) him, and a terrific barking and noise ensued. I said, 'Great (Scott!) (John's on) the warpath. Is the dog mad?' and I climbed a small tree for safety. The child's mother said, 'No, but whenever he ap (Pears on) on the scene, there's trouble.'

"It was a frail tree and I was (Crampt on) a small limb, and I said 'If (I sit) up here much longer, the tree will break. However, the excitement was soon over, and I descended from my perch."

"To my anxious inquiries concerning the dog, the old man replied, 'No damage, all he did was to chase a (Henn ing) to fits, and knock over the rabbit (Hutch in son's) yard.'

"Well, we all laughed over it as we rode back to Glendale; but as for my ridiculous part in the affair, please keep it strictly Entre Nous."

After this story, the gracious hostess served delicious refreshments, cafeteria style, Mrs. Eley pouring tea. After an hour spent in recalling old times, each joined in singing the Peace Hymn. The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be the first Friday after Easter, when the annual election of officers will be held.

HOME GUARDS MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING

The announcement of the meeting to-morrow, Wednesday, evening at 7:30 at the Central avenue school house, Casa Verdugo, to organize the C. V. Home Guards, has elicited many enquiries and the promised support of every patriotic citizen in Glendale and vicinity. Mattison B. Jones will give a patriotic address and other able speakers will be present. People interested are urged to come and bring an American flag. As soon as organization is completed expert drill masters will be employed. Capt. J. G. Marahan, who has had experience as an officer in the Boer war, will also address the meeting. Capt. W. B. Kelly, who is organizing the Guards, expects a large crowd and lots of patriotism.

CLUB SOCIAL AFTERNOON

The Tuesday Afternoon club this week inaugurates the first of a series of delightful club afternoons, the purpose of which is to promote sociability and add to the club house fund. Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 Mrs. E. S. Andrews, a new member of the club, will entertain the Tuesday Afternoon club ladies at her home, 201 North Maryland avenue. These twenty-five cent teas were much enjoyed a couple of years ago and another short series of them is anticipated with pleasure. A program of splendid music and readings will be given and refreshments will be served. New members are especially invited to embrace this opportunity for acquaintance and pleasure.

FLOWERS FOR THE SICK

The flowers which were so much admired during the recent free floral exhibit were given by the Glendale Garden Society to the Glendale B. P. O. E. for distribution amongst their sick cases.

THIS IS A TIME TO BE UNITED

There is no place for a man in the United States under present conditions who is not a real loyal subject of the United States. This is a time when every citizen of the United States should show his love of country, and the country he loves should be the one over which floats the Stars and Stripes.

There is no room on Uncle Sam's soil for the man whose sympathies are with the kings and rulers of foreign lands. The time has come when it is necessary for us to stand firmly back of the President of this great republic and encourage him in his every act. President Wilson has been slow to perform any act that might plunge the United States into war—he has shown an abhorrence for war, and now since he has taken a firm stand to maintain the dignity of the United States by declaring that foreign powers must respect the rights of our citizens, may we realize that such a stand has been taken by our leader as a very last resort, and not because he loves war.

NATIONAL FOREST RANGE TO SUPPORT INCREASED NUMBERS OF STOCK

Approved grazing allowances for the National Forests during the coming season provide for the pasturing of 8,400,155 sheep, 2,120,145 cattle and horses, and 54,680 swine. These figures, compared with those of last year, represent an approximate increase of 111,000 cattle and horses and a decrease of about 200,000 sheep. Grazing experts of the Forest Service figure that for purposes of range allotment one cow is equal to five sheep. Consequently the increase of 111,000 cattle and horses is held to be equivalent to a net increase of 355,000 sheep, or of 71,000 cattle, over the total number of stock grazed last year.

The decrease in the number of sheep is said to be caused by the action of owners who are disposing of their flocks in order to buy cattle. In most cases the reason is not because of greater profits in handling cattle, but because the rapidly changing conditions on the open ranges, where sheep have been handled in the past, make it increasingly difficult to find feed for this class of stock during the months when deep snow prohibits grazing on the National Forests.

It is stated that the capacity of the National Forest range is gradually being increased by protection against overgrazing and improved methods of handling the stock. New areas are also being brought into use by the development of watering places, while the eradication of poisonous plants is reducing the losses suffered by the stockmen.

The approved grazing allowances for the National Forests in California during the coming grazing season of 1917 provide for 521,450 sheep and goats, 221,700 cattle and horses, and 6,625 swine. These figures compared with those of last year represent an increase of 8,250 cattle and horses, and 8,400 sheep and goats. This increase in number of stock is due to better methods of handling stock on the part of stockmen; improvement work on Forests, such as trails, water development; and better knowledge of the actual carrying capacity of range land within the National Forests of California as a result of special grazing studies.

TO STOP A RUNAWAY HORSE

HOW HE LOST HIS FRIENDS

One wonders how many people have the slightest notion as to how to stop a runaway horse. An old farmer in an adjacent state was coming home the other morning when he heard a terrific commotion behind him, and when he turned saw a horse racing toward him in a frenzy of fear. In the spring wagon was a little boy of six or seven and behind the swaying vehicle was a gray-haired man, evidently the child's grandfather, chasing the runaway, says the Columbus (O.) Dispatch.

In an instant the farmer was out in the middle of the road with his hat whisked off his head, both arms gyrating in wide circles. The hat did the work, for the farmer told folks afterward that his mother had told him that a horse would always stop at the sight of a hat being whirled directly in front of it. The animal came to a stop within a few inches of the farmer, who stood his ground. It was the work of a few seconds to calm the quivering animal, and soon the grandfather came up. He threw his arms around the rescuer and fairly wept for joy.—Exchange.

Lack of cash often puts a damper on many good men's enthusiasm.

S. S. Elliott, proprietor of the Glendale Pharmacy, said he had always been connected with people who have the distinction of doing things, and he is pleased to say that Mr. Ambrosini and his crowd are just the kind of fellows he favors being hooked up with. He advises that some one get busy and build more dwelling houses in the eastern part of Glendale, that people who wish to locate in that beautiful section of Glendale may do so. He thinks there is sufficient chance for others to assist Mr. Ambrosini in building up Glendale.

H. W. Vesper, President of the Bank of Glendale, said that Glendale should feel proud of a man who has sufficient confidence in the future of the city to invest money in real estate to such an extent as has been the case with Mr. Ambrosini. He thinks it is in place for all the people of Glendale to deeply appreciate the worth to the city of this gentleman's investments.

H. W. Crooks, publisher of the San Fernando Sun, said although he has been a resident of Glendale for only six months that he has noted with pleasure the spirit of enterprise on the part of her people, and he thinks Mr. Ambrosini has done much to brighten future prospects for the city.

C. W. Ingledue of the Glendale Market said he considers that Mr. Ambrosini's investment is a good suggestion to others to follow in making improvements on property and putting everything in attractive shape. He made particular mention of some business houses that might add much to the business enterprise of this section of the city by installing new fixtures and putting things in modern condition. He thinks Mr. Ambrosini has set a good example to the people of Glendale to be optimistic in their views and to have confidence in the future prosperity of the city.

H. A. Wilson, real estate dealer, stated that he has confidence in all sections of Glendale and has always had confidence in Broadway property. He thinks it is in place for the people of the entire city to be united on all projects that are for the good of the city.

F. W. McIntyre, real estate dealer, was pleased to announce that he thinks Mr. Ambrosini is the right man to be interested in the future financial welfare of our city.

R. M. McGee, dry goods dealer on Broadway, said the only way to succeed is to stick to whatever we are doing, and he thinks it is now in place for all the people of Glendale to get back of Mr. Ambrosini and encourage him in his enterprise.

J. M. Barker stated he is with everything that means the best for Glendale.

Riley Lyons, of the Lyons Grocery, said he is pleased to see an enterprising spirit in the city, and congratulates Mr. Ambrosini on his enterprise.

Herman Nelson, cashier of the Bank of Glendale, is enthusiastically in favor of all that will benefit all parts of Glendale and it is his opinion that the proposed Ambrosini Inn will be large enough to accommodate all sections of Glendale.

J. A. Newton, of the Newton Electric company, stated that he has been personally acquainted with Mr. Ambrosini for a number of years and he has always had confidence in him as being a man ready to do things when the proper time came.

Walt LeNoir Church, Secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, said there is only one Glendale in California, and he as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce knows of no factions or favored sections. He thinks it is good business to keep the buildings in all parts of the city in good repair. From what he has learned since locating in Glendale several months ago, property values are on the increase. Outside cities are beginning to talk about Glendale's advantages, and he as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce stands ready at all times to assist in all things that tend to build up the city.

Mrs. Ginger thinks that all business rooms in Glendale should be filled. There is a sufficient number of people here to give business to all. She announced that in two weeks she will open what is to be known as the Ambrosini Inn at the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, and it is her intention to give the kind of service that will draw people from all sections of Glendale. She expressed herself as heartily approving of what Mr. Ambrosini had done for Glendale and hoped that he would get the moral support of the people in his further efforts to build up the city.

R. W. Meeker, who owns a large orange ranch on Colorado street, stated that it has been his pleasure to come in contact with eastern people who visit his ranch daily. He has learned that those people admire Glendale as a beautiful city and were there to be a hotel here sufficient to accommodate them a large number of these people would spend their winters in Glendale instead of Pasadena and elsewhere.

W. H. Sipple, son-in-law of Mr. Ambrosini, who is a building contractor at LeMoore, Cal., stated that he has confidence in the future of Glendale and it is now his intention after returning from the east, for which he left Tuesday of this week, to make his home in Glendale.

Anthony Ambrosini, in whose honor the banquet was held, stated briefly that in his eight or ten years' acquaintance with affairs in Glendale he has learned that there is nothing more greatly needed than a commodious hotel. He said that when he came from St. Paul to Glendale last winter he arrived here in the evening, sought accommodations at the only two hotels of the city and was turned away because all rooms were taken. He went to a rooming house and was given a small room in an out-of-the-way part of the building. He concluded there and then that Glendale could never amount to anything and continue to treat visitors in this way. He stated that it is his intention when he returns from St. Paul next fall to begin the construction of the large hotel on the northeast corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue.

Mr. Ambrosini has warm friends in Glendale who appreciate his enterprise and he has been assured that upon his return the people of Glendale will co-operate with him in all of his undertakings that are for the upbuilding of our city.

RED CROSS BUGLE CALL

Much interest has been manifested in the twelfth of April drive and it is going to be a notable day for the local Red Cross chapter. Five thousand members is the goal, not one thousand, as the type erroneously said on Thursday. Five thousand members means that there will be with those already in, two in every three homes in Pasadena, not quite enough, to be sure, but satisfactory.

Chairman Sloane of the general committee has been a busy man all week organizing his forces and devising plans. Much depends upon "organization" just at this stage of the campaign, and from Pasadena's 11,000 homes it is hoped there may come no complaint of oversight.

Mr. Sloane has so many things to do and Secretary Bishop so much to think of that they will not consider it a hardship to have volunteers who believe they can help to call up headquarters (see phone book) and give their names. Do not fear, busy ladies with social duties pressing, that it will require much of your valuable time. A few hours only on the important day.

April 12th will prove your patriotism and usefulness.

There are so many committees and sub-committees over which Chairman Sloane presides! One unfamiliar with the details may think this is but a small thing to manage. Well, it is not, and it needs the whole soul and unreserved support of everyone to make it count.

A committee of volunteers will be heard. If you, my lady, or you, kind but perhaps indifferent, sir, get a call over your phone, do not peevishly frown and decline to do your little "bit," but be cheerful, compliant and gracious in your response.

There will be captains to marshal the thousand canvassers, and there will be plans to carry out involving the need of brains, intelligence and applied efficiency. Will you be one of this grand army of the Red Cross?

Chas. Kasseall of Rochester, N. Y., arrived here the latter part of last week and is visiting his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kasseall, and his sister, Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock.

Miss Jeannette McLennan is entertaining her Sunday school class of ten little girls at the home of her mother, Mrs. T. W. Preston, 725 Adams street, this afternoon.

Miss Sadie Houdyshel, who is principal of the school at Centralia, Orange county, is spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Houdyshel of 1539 Hawthorne street.

Miss Cora Hickman of Palm Villa, Tropico, read a paper before the Eschscholtzia Chapter, D. A. R., at the Ebell club house in Los Angeles, this afternoon, the subject of her paper being "Current Events."

Mrs. Chas. H. Temple is entertaining a party of Los Angeles friends at dinner this evening at her home, 301 Orange street, in honor of Miss Nan M. Edwards of New York. After dinner the evening will be spent in town.

Rev. Guy Goodsell of Plattsburgh, Wis., who with his wife is visiting at the home of Rev. Henry Goodsell, occupied the pulpit of the Tropico Methodist church Sunday morning, and in the evening preached in South Pasadena.

The M. F.'s, a class of the First M. E. Sunday school, composed of girls from 13 to 16 years of age, with their teacher, Mrs. Starkey, and Mr. Starkey, are enjoying a picnic in Dead Horse canyon to-day, leaving early this morning.

At the memorial services in honor of Dr. Morrison, which were held at the West Glendale Methodist church Sunday afternoon, Mrs. H. Carr of Pasadena sang a soprano solo, "God of My Life," by Bradley, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Marie M. Masters of Glendale.

John Sharpe is host to a party of high school seniors for the weekly camping trip to his father's mine above Pomona. The boys will take hiking trips up the mountains above the mines and a very enjoyable trip is anticipated. Those in the party, who left this morning in the Sharpe auto, are John Sharpe, Carlton West, Lehman Crandall, Olin Wilson, Max Sherriger, Will Baithis and Miller Fisher.

Miss Edna and Clyde Phillips were host and hostess to a party of young friends Friday night, delightfully celebrating the birthday of the young man. The group of young folks met at the home of the mother of the host and hostess, Mrs. Mary A. Phillips, at 341 Moore avenue, Tropico, where a flag game was played, Miss Beatrice Gile winning the prize. The boys then drew candles, each candle having a girl's name on it, and after finding their partners the young folks all walked to the home of Mrs. H. S. Clewett, Miss Phillips' sister, at 710 West Ninth street, and a prize was given to the couple keeping their candle burning the longest time. Miss Ethel Baker and Chas. Klamm were the couple winning this prize. The remainder of the evening was spent at the Clewett home in games and other social pastime and dainty refreshments were served. Both the Phillips and Clewett homes were prettily decorated with yellow crepe paper and wild mustard blossoms. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Clewett, Misses Margaret Wallace, Blance Cramer, Mabel and Beatrice Gile, Emily Kopp, Beulah Millard, Irene Mauk, Hazel Stickley, Ethel Baker and Edna Phillips, Messrs. Alvin Flanders, Paul Cramer, George Hewitt, William Marple, Roger Baker, Frances Millard, Lynn Dishman, Chas. Klamm, Eddie White and Clyde Phillips.

We have been kept busy handing out the new 1917 city directories which are being given by us for a year's subscription, $4 in advance, for the Evening News.

A happy picnic party, composed of Mrs. W. A. Mulligan and family, Mrs. Minter and grandchildren, Mrs. J. F. Tatlow and family and Mrs. Dutton and family and Mrs. S. A. Davis, spent Sunday at Griffith park.

The regular monthly J. O. C. meeting of the First Methodist church will be held Tuesday evening, April 3, at the home of Mrs. Dana Goss, 714 West Fifth street. A good attendance is desired.

The attention of our readers is called to the one-cent sale of valuable articles at Spohr's Drug Store, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. For particulars concerning this sale, see page three of this issue of the Evening News.

Four dollars pays for the Evening News one year in advance and secures for the subscriber a copy of the 1917 Glendale-Tropico-Casa Verdugo directory. This offer holds good only so long as there are copies of the directory to give out in this way.

Miss Lenore Bond, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bond of 1563 Vine street, celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary at a very pretty party on Monday afternoon, a number of her little playmates gathering at her home to honor the occasion. Games and other pastimes dear to the childish heart made the afternoon a merry and a happy one and the chief attraction among the dainty refreshments served was the beautiful birthday cake. The table decorations were symbolic of Easter and each child carried home a beautiful favor as a memento. Those present were Edith Kelty, Dorothy May Judy, Frances Judy, Cecilia Pencho, Leone Pendache, Philip Stone, Jack Stine, James Flathers, John Fitzgerald, Mrs. James Manning, Miss Gladys Manning, Mrs. Daniel Kelty, Mrs. J. E. Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. E. Flathers, Mrs. Richard Stine and Mrs. Frank Judy.

FIRST M. E. BARACA CLASS ITEMS

While there was not as large an attendance Sunday morning as there might have been, a great deal of good was received from the lesson of the morning. The business meeting of the class, which should have been held Thursday evening of this week, has been postponed till next week.

The members of this class are asked to attend the pre-Easter services that are to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at the church. Dr. Snudden will preach each evening. Come!

KNEW HIS BUSINESS

Mrs. Smith hired a Chinese servant and tried to teach him how to receive calling-cards. She let herself out the front door, and when the new servant answered her ring she gave him her card.

The next day two ladies came to visit Mrs. Smith. When they presented their cards, the alert Chinaman hastily compared them with Mrs. Smith's card, and remarked as he closed the door:

"Tickets no good; you can't come in."—Los Angeles Times.

REBUFFED

Mrs. Barton (to small daughter saying prayers)—"A little louder, dear. I can't hear."

Daughter—"Yes, but I'm not speaking to you."—New York Times.

PRESENTATION OF SILVER CUP

On Thursday evening, April 5, in the library of the Third street school, will be presented to Miss Olive Williams the silver cup won by her at the recent free floral exhibit. Mrs. Walter Ross, the donor of the cup, will make the presentation. At this regular meeting of the Garden Society plans will be made for the Rose Show, the second of the free floral exhibits, which will be held some time towards the latter part of April. Four silver cups are offered for the best roses, two silver cups for the best iris, and one silver cup, donated by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, for the most artistic arrangement of any flowers in a vase or bowl. Garden Society handbooks, containing rules and conditions governing these contests, may be had upon application to the secretary or assistant secretary, Morris E. Caruthers and Miss Olive Williams, or to the president, Mrs. Nanno Woods.

HEAR HIM TO-NIGHT

The Federal Farm Loan and the Torrens Land Law will be discussed at the High School (Glendale) to-night at 8 o'clock by Hon. L. W. Klinker, the noted Chautauqua lecturer. He will tell the advantages for the people under these laws and answer all objections urged against them. The people have long been burdened with high rates of interest and expensive land titles. Here is a chance to borrow money direct from the Government at 5 per cent. on long time and have the state issue guarantee your title to land at one dollar per transfer. Come out and hear this man and bring your neighbors. It's free.—Adv.

MASON'S NOTICE!

No doubt you have heard that the Third Degree has a rival in Unity No. 368. The rival's name is "Stated Meeting." It is held on the first Tuesday in each month. Therefore, on Tuesday evening, April 3, this monthly conclave will occur. The order of business will be as follows:

(a) Routine Business—This will be handled with efficiency and dispatch.

(b) Address—Ancient Masonry, by Judge Wm. Rhodes Hervey of Los Angeles. Bro. Hervey probably knows more Masonic work than any other man on the Coast and is an interesting and forceful speaker. Those who hear him will be entertained and instructed.

(c) Social Hour—This will be accompanied with a demonstration by our famous "Feed Committee."

You and any of your Masonic friends who are eligible to seats in the Lodge room are cordially EXPECTED to be present.

A. W. TOWER, Sec'y.

W. F. NASH, JR., W. M.

NEW THOUGHT

The subject "Life Everlasting" was handled in a most illuminating manner by Dr. Frank Riley last Sunday evening. Following are some of the thoughts taken from this discourse:

"You are the maker of your own destiny. Your life hereafter is what you make it. See that from this day onward you think good thoughts. But the majority of people don't think at all. Life to them is a little dancing, a good time, a few dirty dollars and then death. Many people don't think because they are afraid to think. People live ridiculously for fear of being thought ridiculous.

"Like attracts like. If you want to know what kind of person you are look at your friends.

"Why do we use the egg at Easter-time? Because it is the symbol of the soul. The egg is first a germ, then a living chick within the shell. In twenty-one days, if the hen is a good mother, the shell is burst and the chicken hatches. There is a germ in the center of the soul which lies dormant and asleep. Gradually it awakens and begins to grow. It becomes strong, breaks the shell of materiality, of limitation and rises into life everlasting. Just as Christ was entombed and the stone rolled away, so the soul leaves the mortal body and puts on immortality. So we some day will rise above all earthly things."

Watch for the announcement of the Sunday School Easter exercises and special program for the evening of next Sunday.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The opening meeting of the series of pre-Easter Evangelistic services was well attended last night.

A lively and inspiring song service with special music preceded the sermon on "Helping Jesus Raise the Dead."

The incident of the raising of Lazarus from the dead was the basis of the message. "Take ye away the stone" was the text. Inconsistency in Christian profession and activity is the stone which many must remove before they are able to bring others to life and immortality.

The sermon by Rev. C. A. Cole to-night will be "A Lesson in Values." The meetings during the week will begin at 8 o'clock.

JUVENILE VEGETABLE MARKETS

Did you hear about them? No. What are they? Where are they? Why are they?

Well, the Glendale Garden Society is about to organize monthly vegetable markets, at which the young people may sell their home-grown vegetables and make money for themselves. Did you say money for the Garden Society Oh, dear, no. The Garden Society exists for the sake of others. It exists in order to do as much good to others as possible. It works hard to make the world a little happier and a little better than it would otherwise be. Therefore, the Garden Society is taking up the matter of encouraging young people to be industrious and to reap a harvest from their own back yards or neighboring lots.

At these monthly juvenile vegetable markets the boys and girls will be offered every facility for selling their produce, carrots, lettuce, potatoes, etc., grown at home. Thus they will be given the opportunity of making money for themselves. If girls would like to sell flowers at the same time, or to make and sell candy, they are quite at liberty to do so. The Garden Society believes that enough friends of children and friends of Glendale will be found to offer the assistance necessary to provide a fund for cash prizes and to assist in providing the required lumber or rough tables needed for these open-air juvenile vegetable markets. Further details later.

NANNO WOODS.

FACTS FOR POULTRYMEN

Breeders who are wise will hatch more chicks this year than they ever did in any season, because by so doing they will be providing for better finances later. It may appear paradoxical to say that the past and present prices of grain are the basic reason why there will be better finances to those breeders later by so doing, but such is a fact.

During the past months, from the time when higher prices on feeds began to rule, many breeders have been selling out their flocks completely. This class of breeders sold out every bird because they did not pull up the poor layers that were eating up the profits. They did not know the real reason why flocks did not pay so they jumped to the conclusion there was nothing in the chicken business since their hens did not pay. Other breeders have culled closer than in previous years; they allowed no birds in their pens under a good egg ability per hen. These men and women were and are the wise breeders who know how. The systems used may vary, but they get at basic facts. Some systems may take many months; others but a few hours or days at most. Some breeders have culled out every bird below 175-egg production; others have allowed no birds in their yards under 150 or 160 egg ability, and not over thirty months in age.

What is the result of all this selling-out completely, and culling out to a certain egg production? Pullets and even cockerels are scarcer than in any previous year. As proof of this, a breeder desired to get some laying pullets not over ten months. He advertised in different papers for a period, and obtained very few replies compared to other years. What he did get was not satisfactory for number of birds desired. Other men have found the same conditions prevailing. The big breeders do not want to sell their pullets as in previous years, and other signs show plainly there is a shortage of young laying stock. The same condition refers in a smaller degree to cockerels. This refers in both cases to well-known and common breeds, of which there exists a general supposition that there is an abundance in the market.

Every breeder knows he cannot expect more than fifty per cent. of pullets from a hatch, on the average, hence, to get 1000 prospective layers he must hatch 2000 chicks, and it will be a surer method to hatch 2500 to make up for losses that may happen, and for possible greater per cent. of cockerels. There is no question that any breeder can dispose of his cockerels and culs of pullets at fairly good prices if he will take the time and trouble to find his customers. So loss cannot be counted in the excess chicks that do not prove vigorous pullets.

The demand for pullets will not grow less, but the reverse, especially under present conditions. Breeders who have pullets to sell next fall and spring will find their stock will sell readily at good prices and no doubt will wish they had hatched more.

March and April are ideal months for hatching, because of salubrious atmospheric conditions essential to quick growths of birds in general. The chicks grow better to full vigor under right feeding and care and with less trouble than in the warmer months, and will less trouble from insects, so now is the time to hatch for pullets.—Gardena Citizen.

MAKING BUTTONS, BRIC-A-BRAC AND SILK FROM MILK

Although anyone will concede that man cannot live by bread alone, it has been thought possible to get along rather nicely if milk were added to the diet. But it remained for two French chemists, Francois Lebreuil and Raoul Desgeorge, to conceive an idea whereby milk may also be made to yield a fabric which may be converted into clothing and ornaments. The curds of the milk are subjected to a chemical treatment by means of which the mass is converted into a plastic substance which may be rolled into sheets resembling celluloid, from which buttons and other articles such as combs, umbrella handles, bric-a-brac and even imitation leather may be made, all of which are of attractive appearance and of excellent wearing qualities.

The milk is first robbed of its fat, after which it is warmed with rennet so as to form curds. It is then parboiled and exposed to the air, and then it is treated with acetone to give it the required hardness, plasticity and transparency. The product may be made so soft that it can be used as a substitute for silk in the manufacture of fine underwear, or it may be made solid enough to serve as a good imitation of ivory.—Popular Science Monthly.

TRANSPLANTING WILD ANIMALS TO STOCK NATIONAL PARKS

The United States is carrying on a very interesting work in exchanging the wild animals of one region for those of others—transplanting elk and deer and Rocky Mountain bighorns from regions in the United States where they are plentiful to others where, so far as known, they have not lived. Some of the animals are being shipped long distances.

Wyoming is full of elk; the herds in the Jackson Hole country are the largest of any of North American wild animals since the days of the countless buffalos. But the big Yosemite National Park of California, with its three quarters of a million acres, until recently had no elk, or at least only a very few scattered specimens. But the elk shipped in from Wyoming have become very much at home and are breeding and multiplying rapidly, adding to the charm and picturesqueness of this popular national playground.—Popular Science Monthly.

DRAWING A NAIL EASILY AFTER STRIKING IT WITH HAMMER

A nail not driven entirely in and which has become so rusted that it cannot be withdrawn without breaking a hammer handle, will come out easily if it is struck a smart blow first. The same holds true with a screw; if it will not turn out, try turning it in first. These suggestions may not always work, but many times the trouble may be overcome by their use.

Jumping on and off moving cars and locomotives is a dangerous habit. Remember that it is better to cause a delay than to cause an accident.

SHIPPING CULL ORANGES

It is estimated at Pomona that 1000 boxes of cull oranges are sent from that district to Los Angeles and other places every day through the work of peddlers using autos. These oranges are not considered good enough by the packing houses for shipment east, but the Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Diego and San Francisco markets are flooded. In some instances the street fruit stands have cards on them advertising the fruit as being "Sunkist" fruit.

ORANGE CANDY

An eastern organization is experimenting with a process for coating orange segments with chocolate to sell as candy. It is estimated that a carload of California oranges will make 864,000 pieces of candy. Putting a coat of chocolate on the average California orange would be like "painting the lily," but if folks will eat orange candy in addition to their orange a day that is just the kind of a chance we've been looking for.—Sunkist Courier.

HER ANSWER

The pretty girl of the party was bantering the genial bachelor on his reasons for remaining single.

"No-o-o, I never was exactly disappointed in love," he meditated. "I was more what you might call discouraged. You see, when I was very young I became very much enamored of a young lady of my acquaintance; I was mortally afraid to tell her of my feeling, but at last I screwed up my courage to the proposing point. I said, 'Let's get married.'"

"And she said, 'Good Lord! Who'd have us!'"—Everybody's.

GOLD AND GOLDEN APPLES

Last year the value of the California citrus crop was nearly twice that of the total production of gold in the state. Its value was 29 times as great as that of the production of silver and two and one-half times as great as that of copper. Petroleum alone had a greater value than that of oil.

In the digging of ore from our mines, in the deforestation of our timbered lands, and in the exhaustion of our fisheries, we are but depleting our capital, while in the growing of fruit we actually create new wealth from the elements of the earth and the air that before were not available for man's use.

Agriculture is the source and foundation of any enduring prosperity.—Sunkist Courier.

ORANGE JUICE

California orange juice is fast becoming one of the country's most popular drinks. Its natural freshness and pure, healthful and delicious qualities give it strong advantages over ordinary bottled pops, which, however, are more easily served. In the eastern states there are scores of stores in the large cities and seaside resorts that sell nothing but California orange juice. Oranges from other sources are rarely employed.

Three gallons of water and one quart of lemon juice are added to every gallon of orange juice. Thus commercial orange juice has opened a new outlet for both of California's most abundant citrus fruits. The advertising of the exchange and the distribution of 400,000 orange juice extractors has greatly stimulated its popularity.—Sunkist Courier.
